About Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta is an American honor society for undergraduate and graduate students and professors of history. The society has over 400,000 members, with around 9,000 new members joining each year through 970 chapters nationwide. It was established on March 17, 1921, at the University of Arkansas by Professor Nels Cleven. Professor Cleven believed in the importance of a fraternity of scholars for the study of history, open to both men and women. The society was officially recognized on March 17, and by April, it adopted the name Phi Alpha Theta.
